

Laurier Logo

In 2000, the CFL (Council for Laurier), Sir Wilfrid Laurier Elementary school's student council held a contest to design a logo. Jaime Y designed the winning logo. Here are her words describing its content.

"My design includes a variety of important positive values. Many are about achievement, helping, and parent- student-teacher involvement. The helping hand in my design shows, help, encouragement and community. It is a very important symbol that parents, teachers and students recognize in everyday life situations.

The shooting star represents achievement and also shows that a mind can soar as high as possible. It shows creativity and choices or decisions students can make.

In the middle of my design is a triangle. This triangle shows a link or connection with the students, parent and teacher of their learning, interactions and thoughts.

The bridge acts, as a link for interaction, communication and thought with parent involvement and teachers on one side and on the other side is teamwork and cooperation. If there is a good connection, we should try not to break it.

The link of chains represents learning and what parents, teachers and students do together to produce better learning.

Last of all, the stars at the very bottom represent a student reaching his or her goals to success, like a seed growing into a full -blossomed flower. The star starts off small but develops and grows to its full potential with proper care and nourishment."
